Alps - Diffuser

Alps is a hybrid primitive root / geometric diffuser, made from premium solid wood.

Its characteristic two-dimensional optimized primitive root tunes the start of its diffusion range to lower frequencies. At the upper limit of the PRD's effectiveness, the angled blocks provide geometric diffusion, originating broadband scattering and diffusion responses.

Alps solid construction allows the panel to properly diffuse over its full range without losing energy to internal structural resonances.

With an easy installation procedure, Alps W Diffuser is available in a wide variety of finishes including lacquered surfaces, such as our limited edition (Gold Version).
